

QUESTION 11

How would you rate the overall job President Obama is doing as president so far?

- Excellent
- Good
- Fair
- Poor
- Abysmal
- Undecided

Avoiding another great depression was an impressive accomplishment. The U.S. lost 2.6 million jobs in 2008, and another 600,000 jobs in January 2009, the month of President Obama's inauguration. President Obama's actions slowed the losses through 2009, finally changing to a job gain of 190,000 in March 2010. Since then, our economy has gained 4.7 million jobs in the private sector for a net gain (private and public sectors combined) of 3.8 million jobs.

Association of Liberty

Constitutional Studies

and Citizenship in Washington, D.C. — a few blocks from Congress.

The purpose of this Center is for Hillsdale College to help educate members of Congress, their staffs, and others in America's political leadership in Washington, D.C. about America's founding principles — specifically those found in the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution. It also serves to encourage our students to become actively involved in government, politics, the media, and other positions of influence to help move America back in the direction of liberty and limited government.

QUESTION 1

How supportive are you of Hillsdale's plans to expand even further the influence of the Kirby Center for Constitutional Studies and Citizenship in educating members of Congress, their staffs, and other political leaders about liberty and the importance of limited, constitutional government?

- Strongly Support
- Support
- Oppose
- Undecided

Only activist government intervention in the energy sector will enable us to develop non-hydrocarbon technologies for transition to the second half of this century. Limited /disengaged government will result in profound disruption to our energy supply and to our environment.

the goal of teaching millions of Americans about the principles of America's founding fathers and of the Constitution they created, which resulted in America rapidly becoming the freest, most prosperous nation in human history.

the Internet with

QUESTION 2

How supportive are you of these Hillsdale-sponsored online programs to educate millions of Americans about the principles of liberty and the importance of limited government as defined by our Constitution?

- Strongly Support
- Support
- Oppose
- Undecided

FOR SAME REASON AS QUESTION 1.

ISSUE SUMMARY: Unlike other colleges and universities, Hillsdale refuses to accept any federal taxpayer subsidies, even in the form of student grants or loans, because it is unconstitutional and because Hillsdale wants to remain free from government interference. Hillsdale doesn't want bureaucrats at the Department of Education regulating who it must hire and what it must teach. And even though Hillsdale refuses all government money, tuition to attend Hillsdale is actually less than that of most other private colleges.

QUESTION 3

Do you agree or disagree with Hillsdale's policy of refusing even one penny of taxpayer money either from federal or state government?

- I Agree
- I Disagree
- Undecided

I agree as long as Hillsdale College abides by the federal laws regarding non-discrimination on the basis or race, religion, gender, and national origin.