2012 Annual Fund Drive
to Defend Liberty . . .
by Restoring Constitutional Government in America

Dear Friend of Liberty,

My name is Sean Hannity.

I am writing to tell you about an important project Hillsdale College has launched to defend liberty by restoring constitutional government in America.

And I am very much hoping that you will join me in helping to fund this project by sending the best donation of support you can in answer to my letter.

I am guessing that you are as alarmed as I am that liberty in America is now on the brink of extinction — which is why I have two specific requests:

- 1) I am asking you and those who believe in liberty to join and support Hillsdale College's four-part Campaign in Defense of Liberty in 2012 to teach millions of Americans about the principles of liberty and limited government that made America great . . .

. . . so that we can STOP America's slide into bigger government and bureaucratic despotism (which is even more dangerous than socialism).

- 2) As part of this campaign, we hope to include your views in the enclosed 2012 National Survey of Parents and Grandparents on the American Leadership Crisis and the Purpose of a College Education.

I will explain why your participation in the enclosed survey is important in a moment.

But first let me tell you why your support for Hillsdale College as part of this Annual Fund Drive for 2012 is so critical for defending liberty in America.

I am sure that, like me, you are alarmed at how our government in Washington has waged an all-out
